The Royal African Society is looking for volunteers with a passion for all things Africa to help run Africa Writes, which returns for its ninth edition!

About Us

*Africa Writes* is a festival organised by the Royal African Society, which aims to promote contemporary African writing and writers as well as to explore Africa's long literary past and its future. Africa Writes showcases established and emerging literary talent from Africa and the Diaspora.

Africa Writes 2021 is taking place online and in person this year, with our in person events taking place on Saturday 23 October - Sunday 24 October at the British Library. An exciting summer weekend of contemporary African literature and thought. With a vibrant programme of writing from the continent and the Diaspora plus a buzzing book fair for adults and children and a food court.

The Royal African Society is a membership organisation that provides opportunities for people to connect, celebrate and engage critically with a wide range of topics and ideas about Africa today. We amplify African voices and interests across the fields of academia, business, politics, the arts and education. Through our events, publications and digital channels we share insight, instigate debate and facilitate mutual understanding between the UK, Africa and the rest of the world reaching a community of more than one million people globally.
